CANAL LOCK IN THE RUHR BLOWN UP BY THE GERMANS

Time Bomb Exploded in Dormund-Ems Waterway
Near Herne, Five Miles
From Bochum, Seriously
Interferes With Occupation Traffic.

MORE MINES AND COKE OVENS ARE SEIZED

French and Belgians Now
Hold 18 of These Plants;
Funeral at Essen Tomorrow
for Krupp Workers
Killed in Riot.

By the Associated Press.
ESSEN, April 9.—The explosion of a time bomb destroyed the lock of the Dormund-Ems Canal with the main canal at Herne, early today.
The canal was blocked, seriously interfering with the complicated inland waterway traffic in the Ruhr.

This is the most serious case of sabotage yet reported on the Ruhr waterways. The lock that was destroyed is near the junction of the Dormund-Ems Canal with the main
canal that runs down to the Rhine
at Duisburg and Ruhrort, where the largest inland port in the world is located.

The intention of the dynamite
apparently was not only to block the canal, but to destroy the water from the main Rhine-Herne Canal, which is the main waterway artery of the Ruhr. The French say this main canal has not been interfered with,
as the locks on both sides of the one
which was dynamited were closed
immediately after the explosion to prevent the draining of the main canal.

The Dortmund-Ems Canal, itself
an important waterway, is blocked by the destruction of the lock. The guards have been placed at all junctions and locks as a measure for prevention of further damage.

More Coal Mines Seized.
The French authorities announce that seven additional coal mines and coke ovens have been seized by the commission of control representatives, who in each instance of seizure
were accompanied by a military escort. These seizures bring the total number of coal mines and coke
ovens now in the hands of the French to 18.

The directors of the Krupp works
announce that the funeral of the 12
workmen killed by the French troops
Saturday a week ago or who later died from their wounds will take place tomorrow morning. The works will be closed the entire day. Only 2000 workmen will march in the procession. They will represent all grades of the trades and also the religious unions of the 54,000 workmen employed by the corporation. Provision has been made for other workmen
who will wear special brassards as an identification mark, to act as police and keep order during the funeral. The French authorities have announced they will not interfere with the ceremonies providing there are no disorders.

Simultaneously with the funeral ceremony, a memorial service will be held in the Reichstag in Berlin, attended by President Ebert, members of the Reichstag. State officials and representatives of the trades unions.
Casseler Cuno will deliver the funeral oration.

Occupation Allies Soon to Get 6000
Tons of Ruhr Coke a Day.

(Copyright, 1923.)
DUESSELDORF, April 9.—The taking over by French troops of the coke piles at seven more Ruhr mines
means that, in all, all seven weeks
more, it will take the French and Belgians to take over the Ruhr.
The French and Belgians will have received 6000 tons a day. This will be less than the preoccupation deliveries made by the Germans and not sufficient to relieve the distress
of French blast furnaces in Lorraine.
There is enough coke piled around the mines in the Ruhr to last three months at this rate. But, at the end of this month, if German passive resistance does not break into riotous interference and sabotage, French difficulties will begin to diminish.
At the same time German difficulties will continue to multiply in financial, economical and industrial implications. Under these conditions the longer the Germans hold out the more they will be able to hold out. At the end, although all Germans of all classes still declare they will hold out indefinitely, the conference of delegates from the great labor unions has passed a resolution which begins by

MINIMUM WAGE LAW ENACTED BY CONGRESS IS VOID

Supreme Court Rules Statute Affecting Women and Minor Girls in District of Columbia Is Unconstitutional.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 9.—The minimum wage law, by which Congress sought to regulate the minimum wages to be paid to women and minor girls in the District of Columbia, was declared unconstitutional
today by the Supreme Court.
While the validity of none of the state minimum wage laws was directly under attack in the case, the decision is regarded as of vital importance, and therefore was delivered, counsel agreeing that if Congress had no constitutional right to enact such a law in the District of Columbia, the right of the state legislatures to do so was called in question.

The constitutionality of the District of Columbia law had been attacked on the ground that it abridged
the freedom of contract for personal services, and therefore was beyond legislative discretion. It was defended as a police regulation to promote public health and the safety, morals and welfare of the people. The Court of Appeals, after once sustaining the law, had reversed a rehearing and then reversed
itself.

The states of California, Kansas,
New York, Oregon, Wisconsin and Washington obtained consent of the Supreme Court to intervene in the case as friends of the court. They all have wage-fixing statutes of their own.

NEWSPAPER THAT CAN BE READ IN 10 MINUTES FOR BUSY MEN

New York Herald to Issue Miniature Paper in Addition to Regular Edition.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 9.—The New York Herald announces today that commencing tomorrow it will issue
a miniature newspaper for the busy man which can be read in 10
minutes, in addition to the regular edition.
Frank A. Munsey, the publisher,
in making the announcement, says:
"The average man hasn't more than about 20 minutes for his morning newspaper. * * * The Herald
is that the average man, with so little time for his morning newspapers, doesn't get very far from the news of the day."
It may be that this miniature newspaper will prove to be a very great contribution to newspaper making.

"This miniature newspaper is not meant for the man who has hours for his newspaper. It is meant for the busy American who wants to know what is happening in the world but who with only 20 minutes for his morning newspaper
cannot know if it means reading
through a big metropolitan newspaper to get the news."

WARD'S INJUNCTION HALT
INQUIRY INTO SHOOTING
By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., April 9.—The investigation by Attorney-General
Sherman of the shooting of Clarence Peters by Walter S. Ward was temporarily halted today when Attorney General Sherman and Walter S.
Ward obtained a temporary injunction restraining the Attorney-General and the Western Union Telegraph and Postal Telegraph companies from publishing cablegrams
relating to the case.

PRINCESS YOLANDA OF ITALY MARRIED WITH ROYAL POMP

Elder Daughter of King and Queen Becomes Bride of Count Di Bergolo, Cavalry Officer.

MUSSOLINI TAKES PART IN CEREMONY

Civil Wedding Held in Grand Hall of Quirinal Palace,
Before Brilliant Assemblage.

By the Associated Press.
ROME, April 9.—Princess Yolanda, elder daughter of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena, was married today to Count Calvi di Bergolo, a Captain of cavalry, who holds a decoration for bravery in the World War.
The civil ceremony, which took place at 10.30 in the grand hall of the Quirinal Palace, was followed immediately by the celebration of the religious rites in the Pauline chapel, also within the Quirinal.
Because of the recent death of the Princess' maternal grandmother,
Queen Milena of Montenegro, the services were conducted as simply as possible.

Former President Wilson and other famous personages of contemporary history have been entertained in the grand hall. It presented a brilliant spectacle today, gay with spring flowers and animated by the colorful uniforms of the 700 high State and municipal dignitaries who were privileged to attend.

Mussolini Present.
The King and Queen occupied the center of the main hall, with the bride and bridegroom at the right
and the Dowager Queen Mar-gherita at the left. Premier Mussolini, acting as the crown notary,
came next, while Senator Tittoni,
president of the Senate, filled the roll of civil officer of the crown.

In the center of the hall was a large rectangular table covered with white cloth, on which were displayed three chandeliers taken from the royal palace at Naples. The flowers, arranged about the sides of the chamber, nearly hid from view the sober patterns of ancient tapestries.

Princess Yolanda wore the traditional white gown, with train of old lace. Flowers in her bouquet were white and red. The bridegroom wore the uniform of a cavalry officer. On his breast were the medals he gained in the war.

Queen Helena, laying aside her mourning, wore a gown of gray dress, trimmed with lace. A string of pearls was about her neck.
The wedding guests comprised a brilliant assemblage headed by the holders of Italy's highest honor title—the collar of the order of the Annunziata—with their wives. The witnesses of the brief ceremony included the chief members of the court and of the king's military and civil household, the Presidents of the Chamber and Senate, and the members of the Cabinet. The President and other Ministers belonging to the Fascist national militia were in uniform of that organization.

Senator Tittoni opened the ceremonies by reading the articles of the Italian civil code that relate to marriage. He then addressed to the bride and bridegroom the questions
required by the ritual, after which the Senate secretary read the act of marriage. This was signed first by the bride, then by the King and Queen and lastly by Count Di Bergolo's close relatives. When the signatures were affixed the sovereigns
arose and were the first to congratulate their daughter and son-in-law.

BODY OF ROBBER MUTILATED; MARKS OF IDENTITY REMAIN

Examination Made by Former President of Medical Society in Company With Knight of Columbus.

MEETING TO PROTEST AGAINST 'TIMES' STORY

Gathering Called as Result
of Publication That Body
Is That of Missing Priest
of Virden, Ill.

Mutilation of the body of Charles Wuyber, alias Steve Polanski, three-time convict, by some one who broke into the dissecting room of the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital between noon Sunday and 9 a. m., today, for the evident purpose of destroying identification, did not obliterate the scars or other marks by which the body had been previously identified.

This was established today by Dr.
R. Emmett Kane, former president of the St. Louis Medical Society and professor of medical jurisprudence
in the law department of St. Louis University, who compared the mutilated
body with photographs and detailed description of the former convict's body.

Dr. Kane visited the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital, Jefferson avenue and Gamble street, today, in company with Harry G. Whelan, chairman of the fourth degree class of the Knights of Columbus, to get a more detailed description of the body for presentation at the mass
meeting to be held at Arcadia Dance Hall tomorrow night.

Meeting of Protest Called.
The meeting was called following expressions of indignation by members of the Knights of Columbus
congregating at the St. Louis Times in which the former convict's body was designated as that of the Rev. Father John A. Vranlak, missing priest of Virden, Ill.

The mutilation consisted in cutting
the body from the face, the incision
having penetrated the bridge of the nose; cross-cuts down to the bone across the forehead and temples
and long deep incisions which went through the muscles of both thighs
and both lower legs.

The right leg, bearing a scar by which, among other marks, the body
had been identified as that of the former convict, was cut off at the convict, was slashed at close intervals across the scar, which runs from ankle to knee but the scar is still visible, as the skin remains.

The hair, most of which was burned from the scalp, remains la-tents about the forehead and will permit of actual measurement. The hair was more than five inches long
at the forehead.

LA WYER'S INQUIRY AS TO BOND INDICATES ROSS WILL SURRENDER

ROSS APPARENTLY LOST ENTIRE BANK INVESTMENT

Institution at Kansas City Failed Shortly After
He Acquired Interest in It and Became Its President.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 9.—
Whatever money, from whatever source Donald W. Ross, who was elected president of the West Side
State Bank here on last Jan. 15, put into the bank, apparently is a total loss.

Kansas City bankers are holding $50,000 of securities which Ross placed in their hands to secure haddle loan paper which caused the bank's failure a month after he became its head.

Whether the $50,000 is subject to any claim in behalf of the Night and Day Bank liquidation in St. Louis is a question which no banker here
having knowledge of the affairs of the West Side bank is ready to discuss.

Held 625 Shares of Stock.

Ross purchased 625 shares of the stock of the West Side Bank. Par value of the stock is $100. The price paid by Ross is variously stated.
One statement is that he paid more than par. Another is that he paid under par—$75 a share. Whatever the price, it is said to represent

additional investment over the $50-000 by Ross. He paid cash for the stock and recently assigned it to the new set of men who reorganized the bank.

It is said that Ross, after becoming head of the bank, negotiated loans of several thousand dollars for himself and friends and that his $50-000 collateral also is held as security for those loans.

It was known publicly and by Ross
that the West Side bank was threatened by its bad cattle paper when Ross bought in. He hoped to be able to pull the bank through. Its failure was due to this paper, which was worse than Ross had reckoned.

Statement of Ross' Father.

Ross' father, C. W. Ross, who resides here at 3116 Euclid avenue,
said his son always had been very scrupulous in money matters. "I do not know of a single instance of his having spent money foolishly," the elder Ross said. "He did not have any bad habits and I cannot understand the trouble in which he is said to be." His father said he had not heard from Donald since last Friday,
when he left Kansas City for St.
Louis.

SCHOOL BAN ON ROUGE UPHOLD BY ARKANSAS SUPREME COURT

Rules Forbidding Girl Students to Powder and Paint Should Be Enforced, Says Decision.

By the Associated Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 9.—
Rules by school boards prohibiting girl students from using powder and paint are "just and reasonable, and should be enforced," the Arkansas Supreme Court held today, in its ruling on the "Knobel Lip Stick case." Four of the five justices concurred in the decision, while the fifth, Justice J. C. Hart, dissented.

The case originated when officials of the Knobel, Ark., high school expelled Miss Pearl Pugsley because she insisted on using powder and paint.
The school board issued instructions
against the use of cosmetics by high school pupils, but Miss Pugsley refused to abide by the rules.

Miss Pugsley applied for a mandamus to compel the school officers
to admit her to school, powder or no powder. The Circuit Court refused to grant the mandamus, but at the same time said that the anti-powder rule was not just or reasonable and could not be enforced. The mandamus was refused on ground that Miss Pugsley had not appealed directly to the school directors but only to the principal before taking her case to court. Miss Pugsley appealed the case to the Supreme Court.

Circuit Judge Bandy of Corning,
when he ruled that the school board's edicts were unjust, refused to set aside the rules. Since that time the school board at Knobel has discontinued the high school course and
also set aside the questioned rules,
saying they were no longer necessary.

FRENCH ASSERT RUHR ATTITUDE HAS NOT CHANGED

Five Cabinet Ministers Declare at War Dead Ceremonies Nation Insists Upon Reparation.

"TROOPS TO REMAIN UNTIL WE ARE PAID"

Belgian Statesmen to Meet French Premier in Paris to Hear Loucheur on Renewed Entente Accord.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 9.—Five Ministers of the Poincare Cabinet journeyed to distant parts of France yesterday and, standing beneath the monuments dedicated to the war dead and unveiled in their presence, solemnly informed the thousands of French citizens that the Ruhr would be evacuated only when Germany had fulfilled her reparation obligations. The war was added to the coat of arms of various cities which gallantly withstood the German occupation for four years.

The statement respecting the Ruhr is interpreted generally, and in political circles is said to be intended as the official reply to the suggestions made in certain quarters opposed to the present policy in the Ruhr that M. Loucheur, visited to England, where he met Premier Bonar Law and Lloyd-George, followed by conferences with President Millerand and Premier Poincare, was the beginning of a change in the French attitude and that the French Government was wavering and was willing now to talk with Germany.

Only Means of Coercion.
M. de Lasteyrie, Minister of Finance, speaking at Turenne, in the Department of Correz, said, "Occupation of the Ruhr is the only effective means of coercion we have against Germany. For as long as Germany is not prepared to accept empty promises and vain signatures."

The War Minister, M. Maginot, in awarding the croix de guerre to the Ministry of Finance, said, "Germany must pay and deliver. Germany must realize our unshakeable determination to evacuate the occupied territories only in accordance with her schedule of payments. She knows well that she will never leave before." M. Maginot spoke in this usual forceful manner and his announcement was received with great cheering. "Long live Loucheur! Long live Maginot!"

M. Cheron, Minister of Agriculture, at Lille; M. Reibel, Minister of Liberated Regions, at Guise; and M. Rivo, Minister of Commerce, at Morbihan, delivered speeches, the keynote of which was similar to that of the Ministers of War and Finance.

Until Reparations Are Paid.
The semi-official Temps has just printed an apparently inspired leader, which is intended to set at rest all reports that the French Government, through M. Loucheur, has agreed to the British plan for reparation presented at the Paris conference in January, the irreconcilability of which, with the French plan, as presented by M. Poincare, caused a rupture on the question of reparations. It says: "The French Government has resolved to exact payment of reparations as defined by M. Poincare before the last December conference in London. French troops will remain in the Ruhr until reparations are paid."

Since M. Loucheur's return from London, many of the opposition newspapers have been attacking M. Poincare, charging that the Premier had sent a former Minister of the Briand Cabinet as a special plenipotentiary to Great Britain and that Poincare was preparing to back water.

Pertinax, political writer of the Echo de Paris, heads a leader: "It is necessary for the Government to give an explanation. M. Loucheur himself is quoted in the Petit Journal, of which he is the owner, as saying immediately after he emerged from his conference with M. Poincare Saturday: "I went to England without any official mission from the Government, but I had informed the Premier before my departure of my intention to meet certain members of the British Government. I have seen them and am convinced that an accord, which will not sacrifice in the least the legitimate interests of France and her allies concerning reparations or security, is possible."

Despite denials by the Government and M. Loucheur that he went to London in any other than a private capacity, a semi-official communiqué issued last evening concerning the visit of Premier Theunis of Belgium and M. Jaspard, the Belgian Foreign Minister, to Paris next Friday or Saturday for a conference with M. Poincare on the Ruhr occupation, reads: "It is quite probable that M. Loucheur will be invited by M. Poincare to attend the conference and explain verbally to the Belgian Ministers the impressions which he gathered in England in the course of his conversation with British statesmen—impressions of which the Belgian Government is already cognizant respecting essential parts through a French official communication."

"Besides, as my chief witness in other prosecutions, I have had close relations with Ross and that fact might embarrass me."

Attorney-General Barrett, however, today indicated his willingness to act under facts as presented to him thus far. He gave out the following statement in Jefferson City today:

ANOTHER MURDER CASE REMANDED ON COERCION PLEA

Supreme Court Orders New Trial for Robert and Thomas Creed, Convicted of Killing Policeman.

From the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 9.—Another St. Louis murder case, that in which Robert and Thomas Creed were sentenced to life imprisonment for the killing of Patrolman George Geisler in a bar at Twenty-first street and Clark avenue Oct. 31, 1920, has been reversed and remanded by the State Supreme Court for retrial, because of the admission of evidence of a statement obtained by the police after alleged coercion of a witness.

The opinion in this case was written by Commissioner Davis of St. Louis. The result was concurred in by the other commissioners and all the Judges of Division No. 2. It declared that a supplementary statement of Edna Brooks, a witness, obtained by the police after alleged coercion of a witness, was inadmissible. The woman had been allowed no sleep, was clearly a prejudicial error. "There seems to be no doubt," the Court states, "that at the time the witness made her supplementary statement she was under moral and physical duress of the Police Department."

Killed in Back Room of Bar.
Geisler was killed in the back room of the bar of William F. English late in the afternoon, after a quarrel and scuffle in the barroom with the Creed brothers, in which the policeman was said to have used his club on Robert Creed. It appeared that the argument was begun by the Creeds.

Edna Brooks had been standing at the bar with the Creeds when the policeman entered. She fled during the excitement, but was arrested about 6 p. m. the same day. At the same hour the following morning, Commissioner Davis wrote, after a six-days night caused by constant grilling by the police, who called her a "damned liar," she told the officers that she had not seen the shooting.

Later Testimony.
Later testimony before the Coroner and the grand jury showed that she witnessed the scuffling in the bar, but then ran. She was incarcerated, and later was questioned again, a police Captain accusing her of perjury before both the Coroner and grand jury, according to the opinion. She was questioned five hours, during which she was told of the penalties of perjury and that if she did not tell the truth she would be turned over again to a certain officer whom she appeared to fear. For inquiry.

Then, at 5:30 p. m., after 26 hours of sleeplessness and questioning, she made a supplementary statement that she saw Bob and Tom Creed wrestling in the back room with the policeman, saw a pistol in Bob's hand, and begged them not to shoot the policeman, but they did. She shot so close to her as to powder-burn one of her hands.

This statement was introduced in evidence, over the objection of the defense, after the woman's testimony had been impeached, and she had admitted her perjury before the Coroner and grand jury.

"Will Power Battered Down."
"Her motive and interest," Commissioner Davis wrote of this supplementary statement, "was to escape punishment and to obtain sleep and peace. Her will power had been battered down so that she was under complete domination of the police, and while it is possible for her testimony given at the trial to be true, the coercion used was sufficient to cast grave doubt upon its verity."

Its admission was reversible error, the court ruled. Circuit Judge Hall presided at the trial.

Four other errors were committed in trial of this case in the Circuit Court in St. Louis, the Supreme Court held, in the introduction before the jury of the clothing

KIEL INVITED TO ACT AS JUDGE IN FIDDLERS' CONTEST

Mayor, With Governor and Kansas City Mayor, Asked to Serve in Old-Time Competition.

Mayor Kiel, whose musical tastes range from symphonies to "Turkey in the Straw," will have a chance to indulge his car in the latter kind of melody, if he finds it possible to accept an invitation to serve as judge of the State Fiddlers' Contest, to be held in Paris, Mo., May 24.

Gov. Hyde and Mayor Conwell of Kansas City are the other two who have been asked to judge the contest. Violinists are barred, and only fiddlers may compete. A fiddler, it is stated in the official announcement from Paris, is one who has learned his art wholly by ear, and who plays the old-fashioned head-down and square dance. Twenty competitors have entered, including Henry Taylor of Macon County and Wood Brown of Monroe County, who dispute the North Missouri championship between them.

As an added inducement to serve, the manager of the fiddlers' contest has promised the Governor and the two Mayors that, if they wish, they may hold a marble-playing contest of their own. Mayor Kiel might be more readily interested, his friends say, if pinocle had been mentioned.

willing to recognize, without question, the right of any lawmaking body to stipulate what he should receive as the maximum for his services, Justice Sutherland emphasized the desire of the court to sustain the law were it possible.

The dissenting opinions took direct issue with the majority on the differentiation which the court had drawn between the regulation of working conditions and of minimum wages. Both Chief Justice Taft, who also spoke for Justice Sanford, and Justice Holmes, declared it had been well established by decisions, to which they referred, that the right of private contract could be abridged or regulated by law. They did not agree that there was any difference in law between the regulation of working conditions and wages, as it was well established that the former could be regulated by law, it followed, in their opinion, that the latter could be also.

Government Not Liable for Anticipated War Contract Profits.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Anticipated profits lost through the cancellation of war contracts cannot be recovered from the Federal Government, the Supreme Court held today in three cases. Henry Freygang and others, under a contract with the Shipping Board for construction of the Albert and J. M. Anderson Manufacturing Co., also under a contract with the Shipping Board, and the Russell Motor Car Co., under a contract for the manufacture of anti-aircraft gun mounts, had sought to recover from the Government amounts equal to profits they claimed they would have earned had not their contracts been canceled.

Secretary of Commerce Gives President Latest Information in Sugar Situation.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 9.—Invited by his five weeks' vacation, President Harding went to work today on a variety of problems awaiting his attention.

Arriving at his office shortly after 9:30 o'clock, the chief executive went over a high stack of papers filed on his desk, called in his stenographer and did a lot of dictating, had a conference of more than an hour with Secretary Hughes, discussed the sugar price situation and other things with Secretary Hoover, had brief talks with Senator Nelson, Republican of Minnesota,

EXHIBIT OF GREEK
JEWELRY IN MUSEUMCollection Also Includes Roman
and Syrian Glasswork and Dutch Paintings.

A unique and interesting collection of art objects was placed on exhibition at the City Art Museum in Forest Park Saturday. It comprises Greek jewelry of fabulous value from the seventh century B. C. and later, Greek, Roman and Syrian glasswork, bronzes of the Italian Renaissance, and paintings by Dutch masters of about the same period.

The collection is from the galleries of Kurt Walter Bachstitz, wealthy collector and dealer, of The Hague, Holland, who came here for a few days to see to its installation. It was brought here in preference to other important museums because of the friendship of Bachstitz for Samuel L. Sherer, administrator of the St. Louis museum, and will remain, perhaps, for two months.

Bachstitz said yesterday that his object was to give the public an opportunity to become familiar with these objects of artistic and historic interest. It was made clear by his associates that his purpose is not to make sales, though sales are not barred. The intrinsic value of the exhibition, which requires three display cases in one gallery and wall space for 11 canvases in another, is more than $600,000.

The outstanding objects in the collection are pieces of Greek jewelry. These are of a workmanship that cannot be duplicated, it is declared. Some of the pieces were found in ancient tombs and they go to prove that Tutankhamen and the other Pharaohs were not the only ones buried amid splendor.

How Gold Was Manipulated.
Gold was manipulated by the ancient Greeks in a truly remarkable fashion. Their mainstay was the joining of almost infinitesimal balls of the precious metal to create their designs. This is exemplified in the display of Ganymede jewels found in a Macedonian tomb of the fourth century, B. C., including bracelets, a necklace, earrings and toga clasps. The earrings bear exquisitely wrought figures of Ganymede being kissed by Jove, who took the form of an eagle. The bracelets are of gold and smoothly carved rock crystal.

An Etruscan bandage of gold, about a century earlier than these jewels, is of especially delicate finish. Emeralds and amethysts flash on other objects. Rings add splendor to the group. A tomb of Olbia, which was on the Black Sea, near the site of Odessa, built shortly before the birth of Christ, yielded belts and other bands of gold woven into cloth, perfume vials of the same fine material and golden hairnets that would do honor to the tresses of a modern maid. Jewels on bracelets were augmented by cloisonne work.

The glass pieces of Greek, Roman and Syrian artisans defy solution of the question, How were they made? Burial under earth has rendered them iridescent. A pottery mould for making china is of interest also.

Bronzes of Cellini.
The group of bronzes includes works of Benvenuto Cellini, Benedetto da Magano, Donatello and Giovanni da Bologna. Perhaps the gem of this group is a statuette of Venus done by Donatello, and owned by Emperor Maximilian II of Austria, 500 years ago. Two copies of this were made; one has disappeared and the other is in the Hof-Museum, Vienna.

Among the 11 paintings are: "A Madonna and Child," in the primitive style, by Carlo Crivelli; the famous "Earl of Arundel," by Van Dyck, and pictures by Bernhard Strigel, Holbein, Goya, Clouet and Tintoretto.

IF KIDNEYS ACT
BAD TAKE SALTSSays Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and lazy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you must relieve them, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

During 1932 the Post-Dispatch printed 6538 Agents Wanted ads—2500 more than the THREE other St. Louis newspapers combined.

FLYER KILLED AS PLANE FALLS

Mechanic Probably Fatally Injured in Accident at Los Angeles.

By the Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 2.—Edward Malone, 24 years old, a pilot, was killed, and Herschel McKee, mechanic, probably fatally injured in an airplane accident here yesterday. The men attempted a flight in a plane owned by a commercial aviation company. They are said to have started without exhaust pipes. When they reached an altitude of about 200 feet the plane burst into flames.

DENIES STORY OF CRAPS GAME

Oscar W. Dreyer Says He Didn't Say
Alleged Bandit Played Dice.

Oscar W. Dreyer of 4213 North Newstead avenue has furnished to the Post-Dispatch a statement denying an assertion made by Charles M. Taylor of 4108 Clarence avenue, in connection with the police investigation of the dice game at Taylor's house, April 1, and the killing of two alleged robbers there by three city detectives.

Taylor said that "a man named Oscar Drier" told him that Lloyd Mitchell, one of the men killed, had been implicated in a holdup of a craps game on Newstead avenue, a year before. Taylor said that "Drier" had been in that game. Dreyer takes this as referring to him, and says, "His statement is absolutely false. For I never made any such statement to Taylor or any other person." Dreyer has made affidavit to his denial. The three detectives, Edwin Lemke, William Bradley and Charles Smith, have been suspended on Taylor's testimony, which is a reversal of his statement at the coroner's inquest in this game.

Where the Public Walks

The floor of an office building.

Hard heels clicking and soft heels thudding.

Heavy steps striking and light steps tripping.

Big feet and little feet. Shuffling tread and elastic stride.

Hurrying, loafing, running, halting. Canes, umbrellas, rubbers—all day long.

What kind of floor should a business building have?

The fact that people like to walk on linoleum floors is not the big reason why so many are put down. Linoleum is quiet, nonslippery, restful, and resilient, and the public likes to walk on it—but business men buy linoleum floors on account of other qualities.

The floor of linoleum is durable to the point of permanency; it is water-proof and dirt-proof; it is not expensive to install—all good reasons for a linoleum floor.

ARMSTRONG CORK COMPANY, Linoleum Division, LANCASTER, PENNSYLVANIA

Chicago Office—1206 Heyworth Building

Armstrong's Linoleum
for Every Floor in the House

But the big merit of linoleum as a business floor is—

When the Cleaners Come

Business floors must be kept clean. From a fruit-stand to a bank, from a "shine parlor" to a railroad terminal, from a cigar shop to a department store, from a dairy lunch to a post-office—floors in an American building must be kept clean or the public will make some form of protest.

Keeping floors clean costs money. How much money depends on the kind of floor. The linoleum floor with its smooth, non-absorbent surface makes thorough cleaning a quick, easy task.

This economy of maintenance caused the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to install 270,000 square feet of linoleum floors in its New York City building. The cost of keeping this floor in condition by waxing and polishing averages about a quarter of a cent per square foot per year.

That is low. Linoleum doesn't have to be scrubbed—shouldn't be. Any broom or mechanical cleaner that will remove the surface dirt will remove all the dirt, and the occasional waxing actually mellows and improves the appearance of the floor.

If you are interested in better floors for store, shop, office or public building, consult your architect, contractor, or any good linoleum merchant about Armstrong's Linoleum, or write us for free 48-page booklet, "Business Floors." We gladly furnish data and specifications for laying linoleum over concrete or wood.

What Linoleum Is

Linoleum is a mixture of powdered cork and oxidized linseed oil, pressed on burlap. It takes its name from linus, flax, and oleum, oil. These substances blend together into a material that is remarkable for its toughness, durability and resilience.

Linoleum permanently cemented in place requires no stretching or retensioning. Such a floor is smooth and tight.

Look for the CIRCLE "A"
trademark on the linoleum block.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

The Total Cost of the Civil War to the Union Was Nearly $10,000,000,000, and to Meet This Heavy Taxation Was Resorted To.

DRAFT RIOTING IN NEW YORK.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

UNFORTUNATELY, you have all had a chance to see for yourselves how a great war is run, and you know that it costs a great deal of money. The total cost of the Civil War to the Union was nearly $10,000,000,000. This sum was raised in ways which are only too familiar to us of today. Large war loans were called for, the bonds being taken up by banks and by private individuals. An income tax was laid upon all incomes of more than $800 a year. Existing taxes were raised as high as possible and many new ones were called into being, so that by the end of the war there were few things to be had upon which some sort of tax did not have to be paid. The South had a much harder time raising money than the North. Because of the blockade, the revenue usually derived from import duties was lost. The war expenses had to be met by war loans, by heavy taxes upon practically everything, and by promises to pay when the war was over for goods delivered. Slave labor was used to raise food for the army, and every man had to contribute one-tenth of what grew upon his farm to help feed the soldiers.

During the first part of the war recruiting went on rapidly, and there was no trouble at all in getting men enough to fill the ranks of the armies. But when the conflict had been dragging on some time, and volunteers had been killed in large numbers, the enthusiasm of the populace cooled off, and recruiting began to slow down. Then it was necessary to resort to the draft, just as during the war.

The draft was very unpopular at first, and a large part of the population of New York's East Side started a popular demonstration against it. It sounded too much like the compulsory military service of their old homes from which they had just escaped. So they broke up the drafting offices and looted stores, and shot their fellow-citizens in uniform all the way from Union Square to Central Park. As there were few soldiers in New York at that time, it was several days before an armed force of policemen, marines and sailors were able to restore order.

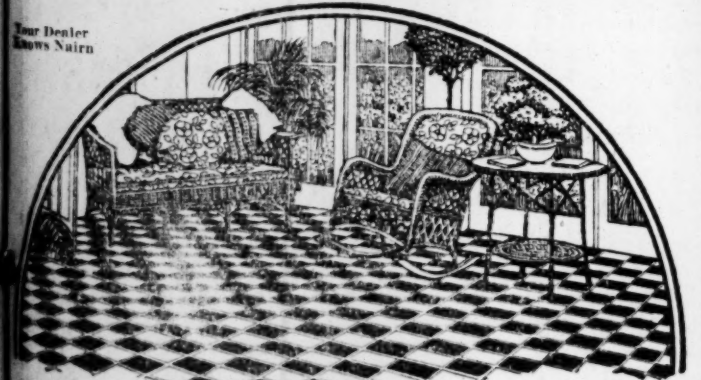

After this outbreak, the people quietly accepted the new situation. It was much easier in those days to evade the draft than during the late war. If a man's number was called, and he did not want to go, all he had to do was furnish a substitute (that is, if he could find one) or pay the Government $300, for which the Government would give him a certificate of exemption. This meant that rich young men could easily stay at home, but that a poor young man would have to go and fight.

To encourage enlistment, bounties, or cash rewards, were offered to volunteers. Immediately a game was invented called "bounty jumping." The bounty jumper would go to a recruiting office, enlist, put his bounty in his pocket, and on the first dark night would quietly walk out of camp. In a short time, supplied with a new name and address, he would again offer his services to the Government at some recruiting office safely removed from the place he had first visited. One man was discovered who had jumped a bounty 32 times.

PATROLMAN, WHO TOOK MONEY AFTER DRY RAID, RESIGNS

President of Police Board
Says That Body Will Accept Resignation, but Can Take No Further Action.

Herbert P. Lampe of 4733 South Broadway, a probationary patrolman assigned to duty with the gambling squad, who was suspended from duty for accepting money from a saloon-keeper for protection against raids by Federal prohibition agents, has resigned from the Police Department.

A hearing of his case was to have been held by the Police Board tomorrow, but the resignation closes the case as far as the Police Board is concerned. President Brockmann of the Police Board said there was no action that it could take except to accept Lampe's resignation, which, he said, would be done.

No criminal charge has been filed against Lampe and the Circuit Attorney has no basis on which to proceed.

As has been told, Lampe was suspended on a charge by Max Kannapell, a saloon keeper at 4703 Nebraska avenue, that Lampe extorted $275 from him for protection. Following a raid March 29 by three Federal prohibition agents, of which L. H. Gatter and William Goshorn were two.

At the suggestion of an operative of the Intelligence Unit of the Internal Revenue Department, Kannapell laid a trap in which Lampe was caught as the money was passed to him by Kannapell. Lampe subsequently admitted to police and government officials that he had taken the money on promise of protection to Kannapell against further raids, but denied that it was to be divided among the Federal agents, as Kannapell had stated Lampe told him.

Gatter and Goshorn have denied any connection with the money transaction. Their connection with the case has been investigated and the report submitted to United States District Attorney Carroll, who will interview the witnesses before taking action against the Federal agents.

2000 CASES OF LIQUOR DIVIDED AMONG FIRM'S STOCKHOLDERS

Manner in Which Chicago Concern Was Liquidated to Be Investigated by U. S. Attorney.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 9.—Liquidation of Grommes & Ulrich, a Chicago liquor firm, by apportioning its 2000 cases of pre-Prohibition liquor among its 150 stockholders, will be subjected to an investigation, Edward A. Olson, United States District Attorney, said last night.

When dissolution of the firm was voted by its stockholders, trucks, guarded by police and Federal officers, all heavily armed, carried the liquor to their cellars. A permit to move the liquor had been issued by Roscoe C. Andrews, Federal prohibition officer. At the time the dissolution of the firm was announced it was learned that the stockholders placed in trust money for stock under a trust agreement and that they were awarded an amount of the liquor equal in value to their shareholdings.

Attorneys for the firm asserted the method of dissolving the firm was entirely legal and upheld by a Supreme Court decision.

You can now buy Quick Quaker Oats as well as the regular. You can serve it, cooked perfectly, in 3 to 5 minutes. There are no other oats like that.

You get the same flavor that gave Quaker worldwide fame. None but the finest grains go into Quaker Oats. But in Quick Quaker the oats are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Hairy Growths Removed Entire, Roots and All

The vexed question of how to completely remove hairy growths has been solved at last by means of the new electrolytic process. The hairs entire, roots and all, come out before your very eyes—rapidly, harmlessly, "quick as a wink." Quite different from the depilatory, electrolytic and waxing methods. Phenol's perfectly odorless, non-irritating, non-poisonous—a child could use it without the least injury. It leaves the skin so soft, smooth, hairless, no one could tell you ever had a mole or hairy growth. Phenol's a whole lot of pleasure from your druggist follow the simple instructions, and you will certainly be astonished and delighted.

Alfred T. Ringling, one of the owners of the Ringling Bros. circus, left a personal estate valued at $570,000. Real estate will bring the total to more than $2,000,000, it was said.

DEFENSE OF HARRY TURNER TO BE THAT HE HAS A DOUBLE

State's Witnesses in Forgery Case Examined to Learn How Certain They Were in His Identification.

Five witnesses, under subpoena for the State in the trial of Harry Turner, on a charge of forgery, in connection with the counterfeiting of interim certificates for French Government bonds, were examined Saturday by Turner's lawyer, A. Samuel Bender, at a deposition process in the office of Ferris & Rowland in the Times Building. Attorney Forrest G. Ferris presided as special commissioner. Assistant Circuit Attorney Bowcock was present to represent the State.

The witnesses were those summoned to testify as to arrangements made for the work on different parts of the counterfeiting job. Bender's chief objective, in questioning the witnesses, seemed to be to learn how certain they were in their identifications of Turner.

Bender said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he expected to show that Turner had a double, and thus to indicate a possible mistake in the identifications. He said he had seen the double, Turner being present, and was unable to distinguish him from Turner. He did not say whether the double would be on hand, ready to accept responsibility for the acts described by the witnesses.

The witnesses examined were P. J. Rando, employed by the Magills, Charles Olsen, a demaker, and R. L. Maze, an employee of a stamp-making firm.

Maimed Youngsters of Prague Will Sing Gratitude for Junior Red Cross Gifts.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Here to show what the help given to them has really meant, 25 crippled boys and girls from the slums of Prague, Czecho-Slovakia today disembarked from the steamer Volendam.

Treading in the paths of their ancestors, the wandering minstrels of Central Europe, these children, organized into the Bakule Chorus, will give their first American concert at Carnegie Hall, Wednesday night. They come, disavowing a trip for money or for propaganda, but to show they have used the money sent them by the Junior American Red Cross.

The school was founded by Francis Rakule, who was an instructor in a children's sanatorium before the war. In the conflict the school lost all Government support and its wards were forced into the alleys and gutters of Prague until Rakule, with nothing but a purpose, obtained a barn and made a new home.

One of the main financial contributions to the school during the war was a boy, then 15 years old, born without arms and destined for beggary, who was picked up from the streets by Rakule and taught to make fancy toys with his feet and toes. The other children sold the toys and the institution survived until after the war, when the aid of the Junior

Red Cross could penetrate to the Czechs.

The Bakule chorus of 24 girls and 11 boys is one of the famous organizations in Europe. Its programs mainly are folk songs.

The children were accompanied by five attendants.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

Announcement has been made in New York of the completion of negotiations for the purchase of the Acme Cement Plaster Co., of which Sam Lazarus of St. Louis is president; the Cook Linoleum Co. of Trenton, N. J., and the business of Thomas Potter & Sons, linoleum manufacturers in Philadelphia, by the Certain-teed Products Corporation. The price paid is indicated by the issuance of $8,000,000 bonds by the Certain-teed Corporation.

The deals mark the entry of the Certain-teed Corporation, which handles roofing products, into the floor covering and gypsum business. The Acme company has plants in Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Michigan, Oklahoma, Oregon, California and Illinois.

Klan Indorsed Candidates Beaten.

EL PASO, Tex., April 9.—Approximately 9000 votes were cast Saturday in the city School Board election, when James A. Borders, banker, and Dr. Felix P. Miller, physician, Ku Klux Klan indorsed candidates, were beaten. The full anti-klan ticket of four candidates was elected by a plurality of 1125 and gains control of the board. Three holdover members of the board are reputed klanmen and the election of one candidate would have enabled the klan to have retained control. All the klan-indorsed candidates for the County School Board were beaten.

NINE ORDINANCES
IN IMPROVEMENT
PLANS ADOPTED

Aldermen Advance Work of City's Rebirth Despite
Many Obstacles Thrown
Before Definite Action.

DELAY IN BOND SALES
IS CHIEF HANDICAP

Estimated That Securities
Cannot Yield Funds for Construction Before August — $700,150 Spent Tentatively.

Although numerous obstacles have been encountered in getting the bond issue program of public improvements under way—chief among them,
the situation that probably no bonds
will be sold before August—nine ordinances involving $700,150 in bond issue projects were passed by the Board of Aldermen before the close of the session last week. Two months have elapsed since the $87,372,500
bond issue was voted in an election
Feb. 9.

Three bond issue bills died with the session—one directing condemnation of the site for the $6,000,000
general plan, a bill creating a legal entity to handle condemnation suits,
and a measure appropriating $10,000
for experimental street lighting. In connection with the $8,000,000 citywide electric street lighting system
to be installed.

These measures will be revived and again introduced after the new Board of Aldermen begins its session April 15. Department heads said today.

Other projects aggregating approximately $2,500,000 are under consideration by the departments for construction as soon as bonds are sold and funds become available. Ordinances have been prepared for five hospital projects, totaling $425,500.
They have been approved by the Citizens' Supervisory Committee, but introduction in the Board of Aldermen was delayed until bond issue funds become available. Plans are being prepared for using $1,000,000
in sewer work, $50,000 in park improvements and probably $1,000,000
in public market reconstruction.

When completed the plans will be submitted to the Supervisory Committee, and ordinances then presented to the Board of Aldermen.

These Bills Were Passed.

A summary of ordinances passed
by the board follows:

Providing $400,000 for dikes and other river control work in connection with the $12,000,000 waterworks
to be built on the Missouri River,
eight miles above St. Charles; providing $25,000 for road work and other construction at the waterworks
site. (This money to be taken from water division current funds and returned after the waterworks bonds
are sold.)

Two bills directing condemnation of land in St. Louis County for the waterworks and the main that will extend from the plant eastward
about 13 miles to the western city limits.

Providing $30,000 for surveys and designing of the city-wide electric street lighting system; providing $50,000 as a revolving fund for installing electric street lights of permanent type on streets to be widened or reconstructed before the city-wide system is installed. (This $80,000 to be drawn from the unexpended balance of a $1,000,000
bond issue for street lighting, voted in 1929.)

Two bills providing $18,550 to pay
the city's share of reconstructing
the paving of Soudard street, from Twelfth to Fourteenth, and Twelfth street, from Soudard to Chouteau avenue.

Directing establishment of a plant
treating the west approach of the McKinley Bridge, between Ninth
Eleventh, Bremond and Salsbury streets. The cost is estimated at $173,100.
The city's share of $36,600 to be paid from bond issue proceeds.

Definite Work Awaits Funds.

Department plans for pushing the bond issue projects were checked by a recent ruling that appropriations
could not be made until the bonds
were sold and the proceeds placed in the treasury. The Comptroller has estimated passage of the new sewer ordinances and other proposals will delay the sale of the first block of bonds until August.

Efforts of proponents of the proposed $1,500,000 northeastern ar-ranch to the Free Bridge to have $250,000 set aside now to pay for the site in East St. Louis, after it is condemned, have been blocked
twice in the supervisory committee, which has taken the position it will not approve the plan
until detailed plans are submitted.
A survey of the proposed site is under way.

Stand was taken by separate members at the information to discussing a viaduct
proposal which is not in the bond program, that the new
the committee are restricted to supervision of expenditures, and

Although numerous obstacles have been encountered in getting the bond issue program of public improvements under way—chief among them the situation that probably no bonds will be sold before August—nine ordinances involving $700,150 in bond issue projects were passed by the Board of Aldermen before the close of the session last week. These measures will be revived and again introduced after the new Board of Aldermen begins its session April 11, department heads said today.

Other projects aggregating approximately $5,520,000 are under consideration by the departments for construction as soon as bonds are sold and funds become available. Ordinances have been prepared for five hospital projects, totaling $4,625,000, they have been approved by the Citizens' Supervisory Committee, but introduction in the Board of Aldermen was delayed until bond issue funds become available. These bills were passed.

A summary of ordinances passed by the board follows:

Providing $450,000 for dikes and other river control work in connection with the $12,000,000 waterworks to be built on the Missouri River, eight miles above St. Charles, providing $45,000 for road work and other construction at the waterworks site. This money to be taken from water division current funds and returned after the waterworks bonds are sold.

Two bills directing condemnation of land in St. Louis County for the waterworks and the mains that will extend from the plant eastward about 13 miles to the western city limits.

MOSCOW CHURCHES PACKED
FOR RUSSIAN EASTER RITESDay Passes Without Organized Demonstration
by Communists—Trial of Former Patriarch to Be Held Soon

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, April 9.—On the eve of the trial of the Most Reverend Dr. Tikhon, former patriarch of all Russia, the Moscow churches were packed with the faithful at the early Easter morning masses yesterday.

Here and there outside the churches small groups of unbelievers jeered those who had come to worship, but the day passed without organized demonstration. The young communists, who had planned a burlesque parade, were informed by the Government that no street demonstration would be permitted.

The diplomatic controversy over the execution of Vice-General Butchavitch is officially closed here. But now begins the even more dramatic trial, right in the middle of the traditional week of joy, of the former Patriarch Tikhon, Metropolitan Alexander of Moscow, Mgr. Gavrilan of the Holy Synod and Bishop Arseni of Novgorod. The Soviet prosecutor, Kryukov, prepared the case against them.

The charge against the Patriarch and the others is the same as against the Catholics. The same lawless, some charged their shoulders, others their heads, but there was no trouble.

The enumerated charges are: That the priests were counter-revolutionaries; that they resisted soviet decrees against confiscation of church treasures; that they used religious prejudice among the masses to create opposition to the soviet Government; that Tikhon called the soviet leaders "robbers and murderers"; that he prayed for the success of the White troops; that he sent without Government permission proclamations protesting against the Government through foreign missions here to foreign countries.

For a year the Patriarch has been under arrest in his own home. His opposition to the Government is no secret. This white-haired old churchman is nearly 70.

Sending Agitators to America
in Great Numbers.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Charging Premier Mussolini of Italy with treason, perjury, murder, arson, bribery and continued violence upon the body and property of all workers of Italy, the Italian Chamber of Labor issued a manifesto yesterday pledging the support of 150,000 Italian workers here to the campaign of the anti-Fascist Alliance which was established last Tuesday.

Delegates from all parts of the country will meet tomorrow to plan a campaign against Fascist agitators who are being sent to this country in great numbers by Premier Mussolini, according to the anti-Fascist Alliance. The manifesto charges his policy of encouraging the spread of Fascism in the United States "to link up with the Ku Klux Klan, to aid the newly contemplated open shop drive and the foreign strikebreakers and gunmen to reactionary employers."

DR. KOO NAMED FOREIGN MINISTER

PEKIN, April 9.—A presidential mandate was issued today accepting the resignation of Foreign Minister Huang Fu and naming Dr. Wu Tingfang his successor, pending parliamentary approval of Koo's appointment.

Huang Fu submitted his resignation several weeks ago, because, it was said, of criticism of the Government for its failure to obtain abrogation of the treaty of 1915 with Japan. Dr. Koo is a diplomat of wide experience, having previously been Foreign Minister and Chinese Minister to Washington and London.

BUSINESS HEALTHY,
VAUCLAIN SAYS, HEREHead of Baldwin Locomotive Works Talks of the American Home and Railroads.

Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, speaks of business optimism and advocate of the railroads delivered two addresses in St. Louis today in the course of a tour of the Middle West and Southwest to preach a gospel of "let the railroads alone."

His first talk was before the students of David Ranken Jr. School of Mechanical Trades in the morning, and the second, on "World Business and Transportation Conditions," was before the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon. He arrived from Nashville, Tenn., yesterday and will depart for Dallas, Tex., tonight.

A Post-Dispatch reporter who had an interview with him at Hotel Chase reminded him that on a previous visit, last summer, he traced increasing prosperity through the line of the closing hours of the Kansas City manufacture of baby caps in America.

"I was right, wasn't I?" Vauclain replied. "The country is in good condition."

About the American Home.

"Then you are still a believer in optimism in business?" "No," Vauclain said. "The United States is better off than any other country. Our workmen live like princes in Europe. Their homes are comfortable and many of them have cars in the basement for Ford's. Queen Elizabeth didn't wear stockings, but every girl and woman in America has a pair of hose now that is at least near silk."

The back of prosperity, Vauclain said, is the railroads. He is an advocate of that enactment of legislation burdening the railroads has ceased. All these burdens must be removed and it is the people's duty to operate economically. The situation would be worse if we should come to Government ownership. Operation costs might rise so as to make rates double. It takes private management to have a real interest in operating economically.

The subject veered to automobiles. "There is a car for every eight persons in this country," Vauclain pointed out. "Two and a half million cars were put into service in the last year." He was asked how this affected the railroads, considering the increasing mileage of good highways.

Automobiles and Railroads.

"It helps the railroads," he answered. "It is a good thing to have all these machines. I do not think motor trucks will supplant freight cars. When manufacturers complain of high transportation costs they had better look around at home. For instance, we had a man in Cincinnati who complained about the rate there from New York; he showed him that it was costing him as much to move his goods from the Cincinnati station to his plant as it cost to have them brought there from New York by rail, and advised him to look for some economy in his own transportation."

He declared the soviet leaders have saved Russia and thus have prevented greater chaos in Europe. He described the present rule in Russia as "mild state socialism" and urged that American business men be permitted to enter Russia for trade. The Rev. Mr. Holmes' program for today included addresses before the City Club and the Council of Jewish Women in Temple Israel on the relationship of Jew and Christian in work that is to be done for the progress of civilization.

AMERICAN APPLAUDED IN ROME

ROME, April 9.—Lee Sowerby of Grand Rapids, Mich., a student in composition in the American Academy here, yesterday played the piano part in a composition of his own in the Augustum, the largest concert hall in Rome.

The work, "King Astoria," was given with full orchestra, conducted by Sir Albert Coates. Sowerby was warmly applauded and had to respond to encore.

WANTS TO, BUT FORD'S RAILROAD ONLY MADE

Vauclain terminated the interview with declarations that the railroads are in good shape, although needing money for improvements, and that business in the United States is in a healthy condition, with every effort being made to avoid inflation. "Say," he ended, "do you know this is the first hotel in the United States where I have had my coffee at 1:30 a. m.?"

TURK NOTE EXPRESSES HOPE OF PEACE AT NEW CONFERENCEReply to Invitation of Allies to Meet
at Lausanne Again Couched in Friendly Spirit.

By the Associated Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 9.—The reply of the Turkish Government to the invitation of the allies for Turkey to attend the sessions of the Near East peace conference, to be resumed soon at Lausanne, reached Constantinople yesterday from Ankara for representatives of the allies here.

The note declared the Turkish counter-proposals contained no substantial modification of the territorial and other clauses of the draft treaty which the Powers could equitably accept. It suggested certain reservations on economic and financial clauses of the treaty.

With regard to the economic clauses of the draft treaty, the note expressed fear that the action of the allies in going back on their previous acceptance of a postponement of discussion of matters which were legitimate subjects for international discussion made difficult and delayed the signing of a treaty. Generally, however, the note was couched in a friendly spirit and reciprocated the desire of the allied Powers for the success of the Lausanne conference.

LONDON, April 9.—A Reuter dispatch from Constantinople says the Turkish reply to the allied note proposed that the Lausanne conference be reconvened April 23.

WORLD PEACE TO BE DISCUSSED
BY LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERSPreliminary Conference Tomorrow
to Precede Convention Tomorrow
at Des Moines.

By the Associated Press.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 9.—Eight pre-convention conferences are to be held in adjoining the women of the opening tomorrow morning of the fourth annual convention of the National League of Women Voters.

While the league primarily is interested in arousing the women of the country to their right of suffrage, world peace will be the principal subject discussed at this year's convention. There will be two mass meetings devoted to the subject. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, is scheduled to address one of the meetings Wednesday evening and Lord Robert Cecil is to speak at another meeting to be held Friday evening. Lord Robert's speech on "Women and International Co-operation to Prevent War" will be preceded by the annual banquet of the league. Speakers at this banquet will include Mrs. Clifford Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Oliver Strachey of London, and Dr. George Leonard Knapp of Chicago.

REPORT OPPOSES BRIDGE PLAN

Opposition to the plan to exchange uses of Eads and Free Bridges was expressed in a report of the Legislative Committee of the Central Trades and Labor Union yesterday.

The committee reported in favor of keeping the Free Bridge for its original purpose, opposing the proposed change so long as the railroads maintain the arbitrary.

Seen as Vice Presidential Possibility and So Is Gif-

By DAVID LAWRENCE,
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—President Harding himself will have to decide who his running mate shall be as Vice President. The announcement by Mr. Coolidge that he believed Mr. Harding should be renominated, but making no mention of his plans, is construed here as a modest disinclination on the part of the Vice President himself to make a bid for the place.

For some time it has been whispered about that Mr. Coolidge did not care to be Vice President a second time and that he thought he could be of more use in the public service by taking an active part in the debates of the Senate instead of presiding silently over that body. At the next election Senator David Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts, comes up for re-election, and friends of Mr. Coolidge believe that would make an ideal candidate to trust against Mr. Walsh.

But even a decision to enter the Senate in Massachusetts would not be made by Mr. Coolidge without consulting President Harding, who, after all, is party leader, and has a great deal to say about the man who accompanies him on the national ticket.

If, however, Mr. Coolidge should finally enter the senatorial contest in his home State, the chances are that Mr. Harding would throw the weight of his influence in favor of a "progressive" for Vice President, so that the ticket would be attractive to those of the "progressive" school of thought.

Former Gov. Allen of Kansas, Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt.

The possibilities along that line are former Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas, Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Allen's record in Kansas with the Industrial Relations Court commends him to the leaders of the Republican party, many of whom helped to choose Mr. Coolidge originally because of a similar aggressiveness in handling labor disputes in Massachusetts. In fact, it was well understood by some Eastern leaders that Henry Allen would be chosen Vice President in the 1920 convention; in fact, in the excitement of the closing hours of the Kansas delegation swung to Harding, believing the Kansas Governor would be named, when something went wrong and a stampede in the direction of the Massachusetts Governor followed.

Mr. Allen's public speeches have made such a profound impression on business men and bankers that were it not for the fact that Mr. Harding is a candidate to succeed himself, the Kansas leader would be a certain factor in the presidential contest itself.

Gifford Pinchot's Name Heard.

Next to former Gov. Allen, the name of Gifford Pinchot, who, making such a spectacular record as Governor of Pennsylvania, would have a significance entirely apart from his original affiliations with the Rooseveltian era in American politics. He is making such a vigorous fight for the enforcement of the prohibition amendment that Gifford Pinchot's presence on the national ticket would throw the "dry" support toward Mr. Harding without doubt and would, so far as the Republican ticket is concerned, remove all doubts as to the "wet" and "dry" question, enabling the Democratic candidates to take the other side of the controversy if they choose, as the Republican convention undoubtedly will have met and selected nominees before the Democrats convene in 1924.

Friends of Theodore Roosevelt, the youthful but efficient Assistant Secretary of the Navy think the same star of destiny which led his distinguished father from the office of Secretary of the Navy to the vice presidency may shine again for the son. They are arguing that the best way to insure "progressive" support is to put a Roosevelt on the ticket and the West will respond. It is interesting to note that while Pinchot and young Roosevelt are Easterners, their main strength is in the West. So is Gov. Allen's strength in the West, with a measure of substantial support in the East besides. In the battle for Western States—where un-

Maximum Surtax Rate
Tends to Keep Revenue
Down.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—A $70,000,000 increase in the March collections of income and profits taxes as compared with the March collections of last year, on which the higher income surtax rates applied, gives a practical answer to the tax problem and "shows clearly what course further revision should take," Secretary Mellon declared in a statement last night.

Even the present surtax rates, which range to a maximum of 50 per cent, and give a combined maximum normal and surtax of 58 per cent, Mellon said, are tending to hamper business and, causing the large taxpayers to seek every possible means of avoiding the realization of taxable income.

He mentioned that, although higher rates were in effect in March, 1922, the collections at that time were $70,000,000 less than in the same month this year, a circumstance which he regarded as proof that the downward trend exists had acted.

"Significant Commentary."

In addition to the reduction in the surtax rates, Mellon recalled that there had been many other liberalizing provisions included in the present law as compared to the previous act. Yet, he said, in the face of allowances for increased exemptions for dependents, for the reduction in tax on capital gains and other simplifying provisions, there has been an increase in revenue over the corresponding period a year ago. All of this, he added, makes a significant commentary on the revision urged by the treasury.

"There is no point in maintaining high rates of taxation which do not produce revenue," the Secretary continued, "and there is no doubt that the high income tax rates which are still in effect are gradually defeating their own purpose. The revenue act of 1921 (the present law), rise as high as 50 per cent, giving a combined maximum normal and surtax of 58 per cent, and the treasury has pointed out in the past the excessive rates but such heavy pressure on the large taxpayers to reduce income subject to surtaxes that inevitably they seek every possible means of avoiding the realization of taxable incomes."

URGES 25 PER CENT RATE

"The high rates sound productive but the fact remains that year by year they are becoming more and more ineffective and are actually operating to reduce rather than increase the Government's revenue. I accordingly recommended to the last Congress that the surtaxes be reduced to a maximum of 25 per cent, making a maximum normal and surtax of 33 per cent, and that, at the same time, various avenues of escape from the surtaxes be closed as far as possible under the law."

"Congress has already acted to close some of the gaps, but for the most part the evil still remains and the only effective way to reach it is to reduce the surtaxes themselves to a more reasonable level in order to reduce the pressure for avoidance of taxable income and keep the surtaxes from becoming completely unproductive. I am confirmed in the conclusion by the March collections that if readjusted to the maximum of 25 per cent recommended by the treasury, the surtaxes would better accomplish their purpose and yield at least as large and probably larger revenues than the surtaxes now in effect without at the same time involving the country in the unwholesome consequences which follow from artificial conditions, growing out of the present law."

questionably the campaign will be fought—some one identified with the term "blue" may rise up to contend for the vice presidential nomination. Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas is another name to conjure with when Western support is considered.

Mr. Coolidge's possible withdrawal will open up the race for the presidency for a while, but as usual the influence of the head of the ticket will decide the victor, for the Harding delegates will be in control of the convention, and their leader will have a natural interest in seeing the strongest possible candidate chosen.

Cardinals Make 17 Hits, Score 9 Runs in One Inning, but Detroit Rallies in Ninth and Ties Game

Toney and North Hurl Indifferently, but Heavy Artillery Pounds Tiger Defenders Savagely—Cobb Behaves Nicely and Benches Self in Favor of Manush.

By Herman Wecke.

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., April 9.—The third game of the deadlocked series between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Detroit Tigers is scheduled here today. For two consecutive days the clubs have battled to tie results.

In the second clash of the exhibition series played yesterday at Chattanooga, the score after nine innings was 11-11. It was one of the freest hitting contests seen in many a day. First the Tigers were ahead, but the Cardinals came from behind and by a great rally won the game. In the ninth the Cardinals tied it, and after the Cardinals had failed in their portion Umpire Pfitzner called off hostilities.

The Rickermans did all of their damage in one big round. This was the fifth, when nine runs were scored against Johnson and Holloway, before a batter had been retired. The inning went as follows:

Flack singled. Hornsby put one over the left-field wall. Bottomley and Stock doubled. Myers singled and Holloway replaced Johnson. Freeman walked. Clemens singled. Mueller, for Toney, doubled. Blades singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Flack, up for the second time, singled. Then Hornsby, Bottomley and Stock were retired.

Cobb's Error Helps.

Prior to this big session Johnson had fooled the Cards. Bottomley's single and Cobb's two-base error, with an infield out giving a run in the fourth.

Smart baserunning by Blades gave the Cards their other marker in the eighth. Blades singled, and was sacrificed to second. Hornsby hit to Maney and Blades singled. Maney long enough for him to lose Hornsby and then slide into third safely. Then Blades rallied on Bottomley's pop to Rigney in short center.

In all the Cardinals made 17 hits off the two Tiger pitchers.

Fred Toney, the big right-hander, waited for the Cards. He was anything but right. Eight hits and seven runs was the damage done in the five rounds he labored.

Toney started badly. Two gone in

SPECIAL DAILY

Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 9.—Today was the least interesting day of the year in Wall Street. Some of the more important news items of the day were the slight change in the price of the stock market, which was not much of an account, and the fact that the market was steady to day.

Poincare to State France's Post Sunday.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 10.—Premier Poincare plans to set at rest any doubt there may be regarding the French attitude toward Germany and reparations question by the address Sunday at the dedication monument to the war dead at Dunkirk. The Premier, it was understood today, will reiterate the present Government's position that the Ruhr will not be evacuated until Germany pays.

Old Dutch
Cleanser Week
April 9 to 14

The illustration depicts a Dutch village square with three large, gabled houses. Numerous people, dressed in traditional Dutch clothing, are engaged in cleaning activities throughout the square. Some are using brooms to sweep the cobblestone paths, while others are carrying buckets or using long-handled tools. The scene is set in a sunny, open area with a few trees in the background. The overall style is a classic black and white line drawing with a focus on community and cleanliness.
